"Sleep On And Take Your Rest"

Peaceful be thy silent slumber,
Peaceful in thy grave so low;
Thou no more wilt join our number
Thou no more our sorrows know.

Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled
And in Heaven with joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tears are shed.

REPORT OF THE W. H. and F. M. Society

Palatka, Florida, December 9, 1938.

To Bishop R. A. Grant and members of the East Florida Conference, A.M.E. Church, Greetings:

The past year's missionary activities which have been performed by the faithful women of the East Florida Conference, African Methodist Episcopal Church, are filled with Christian sentiment. The leadership has served, labored and sacrificed to make instructive missionaries of the followers. A greater foundation of consecrated service in community and church have been the means of attracting many to become members of the Missionary Society.

In places where one could hardly distinguish the church member from the outsider; the missionary society has stopped and taken stock. Bidding them give up examples which were not considered exemplary.

Mrs. M. E. Grant, State supervisor, Mrs. A. E. Heath, State president; Mrs. G. B. Gardner, Young Peoples supt., are continuously presenting religious missionary ideas, which open the way to higher Christian education. Mrs. G. A. Mitchell, East Florida Conference Branch president with the officers and members have welcomed and graciously received the program of our worthy efficient State leadership and are trying to instill into others the real cause for mission. Mrs. Grant, wife of the successful bishop of Florida, is a born missionary idealist. Her life regulates the lives of the entire missionary society of the Eleventh Episcopal District. Sisters Grant, Heath and

J. L. Brooks are ever summoning the workers to larger lives of discipleship.

We express thanks unnumbered to Bishop R. A. Grant for the extended interests, which so much inspire the work. The bishop's thoughts and assistance reaches the humblest as well as the highest. The presiding elders are encouraging the cause of mission. Their fellowship is precious. There is reason for rejoicing over the harmony which prevails among the ministers and missionary workers. The prayers of the branch are for a continued abundant life. We further urge the prayers of the annual conference that the missionary dept. might be filled with the work of which they must carry forward. We bow our heads over the passing of a great worker, Mrs. Ruth Logan.

REPORT ON EDUCATION

Bethel A.M.E. Church

Palatka, Florida, December 8, 1938

To the bishop, visiting bishops, general officers, members and friends of the sixty-second annual session of the East Florida Conference, Greetings:

We your committee on Education, submit the following as our report:

The word "education" means to draw out. It is systematic training of the mental and moral powers, the knowledge and ability gained through a systematic course of training.

It holds a definite and conspicuous place in the church and nation today. It is in great evidence in our schools, colleges, and universities in its broadest aspects.

Every nation has its social ideals and believes in the maintenance of those ideals. Education is the instrument by means of which a nation hopes to realize its ideals. Because different nations have different ideals, there exists different systems of education. In Europe the ideals are the resultants of historic forces.

Society has developed in strata and the classes in control of the destinies of the various nations believe in the maintenance of these strata.

As an individual is born into a class of society his education is organized chiefly to fit him for the various vocations of that class. This conception of education has been successfully maintained not only because of the organization of society into castes, but because of the relative stability of the population, most people live in the community in which their parents lived, and it is natural for their children to take up the vocation of their parents. These two factors explain, to a great extent, the remarkable success of the industrial education movements in Germany, neither different in political ideals nor in the age of a national system of education seems to affect this attitude toward education.

Russia with its autocratic conception of government and its century-old system of education, is but little more representative of this type of education than is England, which is organized politically as a democracy and which developed a national system of education but a generation ago.

We must realize that the great A.M.E. Church has wrought marvelously in the field of education and because of this fact, the church has and is making a potential contribution to citizenship and the civilization of our country.

Through the open door of Christian education, the A.M.E. Church has sent out men and women whose character and scholarship attainment admitted them into the council of the wise to protect the interests of our race. Men and women have passed through its halls, and are rendering tangible service in the church, school and world.

We realize more fully as the years go by, God's guidance, over the fathers in the founding of E. W. C.; our school has had its rise and fall as all other institutions have had, but in the midst of the storms, we are rising to higher grounds and a new and brighter day is dawned under the providential leadership of Bishop Grant and his loyal supporters. Our high school is accredited and our contemplation for an accredited college is hopeful.

Whatever we hope our nation to be, the standard and ideals must be set up in our schools. No people can rise above its leaders.

The A. M. E. Church has caught the wonderful vision of the fathers to train the ministry to lead on efficiently and satisfactorily to heights where men may safely go, not only the ministry, but our sons and daughters of Allen might avail themselves of educational advantages that only Christian schools can give.

The wealth and greatness of Christian education is not determined by what it has done, but by what it may become to do. Our educated leadership must be the best trained in heart, mind and hand, to give the black man his rightful place in American life.

The youth of our group must be urged to know the importance of education and acquire it, for it increases our sense of appreciation for the higher things of life.

We look with pride upon the sacred heritage and legacy that the fathers have handed down to us; great educational centers to which boys and girls may go and catch a vision of the highway over which many masters have trod.

Every Negro in Fla. should congratulate himself in the reality of E. W. C. and share in its development and responsibility.

President C. S. Long is leading on successfully, his faculty and student body. Dean W. G. Alexander and his staff of teachers are fully prepared to train ministers to the degree of standardized seminaries as Gammon, Garrett, Wilberforce and Turner. The preacher must be fed to feed the flock.

The church must remain dedicated to spiritual power and scholastic efficiency to bring the world to Christ, for Christian education is a dynamic agency for good and the controlling influence of the world.

Committee on Temperance

Palatka, Florida, December 9, 1938

To the bishop, brethren and visitors of the sixty-second annual session of the East Florida Conference, Greetings:

The committee on Temperance presents the following as our report for your consideration.

We thank God for sparing us to meet in another annual conference, and for the privilege and pleasure to serve in this capacity.

Temperance is one of the greatest essentials of life. It is self-control, moderation in thoughts, words and deeds, the habit of avoiding extremes, especially in alcoholic liquors and food.

Temperance has to do with all the senses of man. It is both mental and physical power.

Man has two creators, first, God, who gives the raw material of life and laws in conformity to make that life what he will. Second, himself who has marvelous powers within him that he seldom realizes, it is what a man makes of himself that counts. Man in his weakness is his greatest enemy, and the creature of circumstances. Man in his strength, is the creator of circumstances, whether he be a victim or victor, it depends largely upon himself. Man is never truly great merely for what he is, but ever for what he may become. Until man be truly filled with the knowledge of the majesty of his possibility, until there comes to him the glow of realization of his privilege to live the life committed to him as an individual life, which he is personally responsible for, unto God and man, he merely gropes through the years. Temperance holds a conspicuous and definite place in Christianity and our civilized world and it is one of the highest virtues of Christian ethics and a dynamic force in the Christian church.

The Apostle Peter addressed the church and said: Get knowledge, add to your knowledge temperance and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness, and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, charity.

There is a great need today for men to return to the old path and walk therein, soberness of mind and true moral virtue.

Intemperance has always had its far reaching effects upon the people everywhere, most crimes and accidents can be traced to some form of intemperance. The use of liquors, tobaccos and narcotics are very destructive to the nation, mentally and physically, degeneration, and moral decay have set in as a result, and men are becoming weaklings physically and morally. Duval County has taken drastic measures with motorists who are even guilty of having on them, the scent of liquors.

This law has curbed accidents in a large measure. Liquor traffic alone costs the nation more than twenty billion dollars a year and crime costs more than it does to carry on the Federal Government.

The responsibility for a spiritual, moral, intellectual and physical world, rests upon the home, church, and school. Legislation cannot and will not bring about temperance, but it must be taught by inheritance and environment.

Women like Sarah Hannah, Elizabeth, and the Virgin Mary, who contemplated on noble thoughts and lofty ideals with true devotion to God, have given to the world the greatest character of all times and from the latter came the world's greatest friend, the Holy One, the Son of the living God, the highest thought of life.

Our parents, religious and educational leaders must teach our children the way of God by example and precept if they are to be saved and safe spiritually and morally.

The crime of the tongue is more destructive than the poison of the German and one of the worst forms of intemperance. The dynamic gun and poison gas kill the body, but the tongue kills reputations and often ruins characters. Each gun works alone, each loaded tongue has a hundred accomplices; the havoc of the gun is visible at once; the full evil of the tongue lives through all the years, even the eye of omniscience might grow tired in tracing it to its finality.

The crimes of the tongue are words of unkindness, of anger, of bitterness, of harsh criticism, gossip, lying, and scandal. The aggregate sorrow, pain and suffering that come from crimes of theft and murder in any single year are microscopic when compared with the sorrows that come from the crimes of the tongue. Homes have been destroyed, peace has been disturbed and the brotherhood of man has lost its estimation and value from the crimes of the tongue. Antagonism to our Christian doctrine, and African Methodism is a growing situation and the poisonous tongues the creative force. Brethren, our only road to a final recovery to overcome the evil inroads of the Christian church, is to consider what the Lord requires of us: to do justly, love, mercy and truth, and walk humbly with thy God. Then the knowledge of God will cover the earth as the water covers the sea, and the kingdom of this world will become the Kingdom of God.
